ARTIST DIRECTORY

JONAH BALLARD

Jonah Ballard has spent most of his life with a passion for art. Growing up in the White Mountains of Arizona, his parents were always untraditional in their line of work; creating their own businesses and involving their three boys in their trials and successes. In 2008, their business at the time changed and gave way to a new idea: The Painted Ladies. What started as a small business in the backyard, hand painting witty sayings on sun-bleached pallets, turned into the widely recognized fine art business that Jonah has been able to expand through his art.

Being the second oldest of the sons, Jonah often lent a hand in weekend markets with his parents and was exposed to the many styles of local artists. With practice and time, he began selling his work along side his parents at the weekend tradeshows and slowly gained more interest in pursuing a career of art.

Jonah, 20 at the time, taught himself techniques and absorbed styles to create his own. He is as heavily influenced today, as he was then, by the romantic and symbolic works of William Blake and the beauty of the Southwest. This interest brought way to his first big work titled 'Cactus Heart', which sold shortly after the completion. The high demand for the recreation of the piece lead him to release his first batch of prints which were done on real wood 9"x12" canvases cut by his father in his workshop. He talks about how the wood canvas brought the piece to life in a way that no other artist had done with a print. The Painted Ladies was soon filled with wood prints of his works and later, paper giclees.

Jonah, now at the age of 27, has been featured in magazines and news outlets nationwide. His work can be found at art shows each weekend across the United States and prints in store fronts across the country. What started as a small backyard shop, has now grown to be one of the most widely recognized art businesses in Metro Phoenix and the USA. Jonah travels the country working alongside his family.

"... My large body of work in the Cactus Head series was the result of the self-study of William Blake's imagination coupled with my love for the Southwest desert. I continue to broaden my subject matter in my artwork and enjoy challenging myself with the more refined techniques of portraiture. I have also had a lot of fun with my experimentation in pop culture references and modern interpretations of Western film characters. Although I am not classically trained, I truly believe that being self-taught has allowed my imagination to manifest as it will, unencumbered by any limitations." - Jonah Fox Ballard

STELLA ARTOIS STAGE PERFORMERS

STELLA ARTOIS STAGE PERFORMERS

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 10

Kelly Doyle Duo (Friday, 10:30AM - 12PM)

Kelly Doyle is a boundary-pushing guitarist from Houston, Texas, known for seamlessly blending jazz, country and avant-garde influences into a singular sound. Rooted in Houston's rich and diverse musical landscape, Doyle continues to push the boundaries of guitar-driven compositions, bringing his unique style to collaborations with a wide array of artists. Whether on stage or in the studio, he remains dedicated to expanding the possibilities of the instrument and challenging conventional musical norms.
@delicousdoyle

DJ Hiram (Friday, 1PM - 2:30PM)

Hiram is a Mexican born producer/DJ based out of Houston, TX. His high energy performances blur lines between global dance rhythms and pop music. @yunghiram

David Caceres (Friday, 3:30PM - 5PM)

Saxophonist and vocalist David Caceres is easily the most sought-after jazz musician in Houston, TX. Spanning his impressive career he has become a veritable Texas Tradition juggling an incredible performance, recording, and teaching career, having 4 CDs under his belt. www.davidcaceres.com

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 11

MECA & Westbury High (Saturday, 10:30AM - 12PM)

The aspiring student bands of Westbury High School bring their original music and traditional mariachi music to the festival.
www.westbury.houstonisd.org

ArumSon (Saturday, 1PM - 2:30PM)

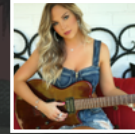

Aurum Son is a genre-fluid musical ensemble from Houston, Tx. Drawing inspiration from free jazz and global folk, they seamlessly weave through sound exploration, taking their audience along with them. @aurumson

The Crusaders Experience (Saturday, 3:30PM - 5PM)

The Crusaders Experience is a group of professional musicians celebrating the music of Houston jazz legends whose shoulders we stand on. All of us are accomplished individually but we come together to pour into our audiences what's been poured into us. www.jelandojohnson.com

SUNDAY, OCTOBER 12

Heather Rayleen (Sunday, 10:30AM - 12PM)

Country meets rock, meets girl. Heather Rayleen brings raw, infectious power to every stage. Texas born and raised, multi instrumentalist, armed with a voice that's equal parts smoke and soul. www.heatherrayleen.com

Jazz Houston Youth Orchestra Kinder HSPVA Latin Jazz Ensemble (Sunday, 1PM - 2:30PM)

The Jazz Houston Youth Orchestra (JHYO) is a premier audition-only ensemble of 22 outstanding high school musicians from across Greater Houston. Founded in 2021, the orchestra provides young jazz artists with transformative opportunities under the direction of acclaimed saxophonist/vocalist David Caceres and trumpeter James Williams.
www.jazzhouston.org

Shame on Me (Sunday, 3:30PM - 5PM)

Houston-based band Shame On Me offers a unique blend of soulful rockabilly. Their live performances—featuring twangy guitars and powerful vocals—have gained them a loyal following in the Texas music scene.
